

(parts highlighted belong to Guy Sebastian)

I know it's weird to say this,

But I've been thinkin' 'bout it lately

Reminiscing about us before this

Playing around in pure bliss, man those days were crazy!

But we've been separated lately

And I wish that we could make it

So that we could go right now to my house,

Or maybe to your house, or maybe we could go out!

I know you're really far from us!

We're missing you, and we hope you've thought of us!

While you might be stuck at home,

You should know you're not alone.

While you can't sing with the choir,

And you can't dance with the crew.

You ain't doin' this solo

We all riding with you

No one can put out your fire...

Not even stay-at-home gloom.

Cause while you can't sing with the choir

We all riding with you

And we fill up all our days with

Boredom at home, it takes up our week!
And they say we'll be out in two weeks,
Then it gets to two weeks and they say maybe three weeks.
And then before you know, it's all getting old,
And we ask ourselves,
When will we get to go
Go outside of our homes!

While you can't sing with the choir,
And you can't dance with the crew.

You ain't doin' this solo

We all riding with you

No one can put out your fire...

Not even stay-at-home gloom.

Cause while you can't sing with the choir

We all riding with you

Someday, I know, my friend,

I'm gonna see you again, and when I do

You better have a part for me

You sing the melody

I take the harmony

Cause we ain't done making music yet

We got some more sound checks

And this time, we're gonna have a million voices,

Singing, dancing,

Livin' how we like it!

While you can't sing with the choir,

And you can't dance with the crew.

You ain't doin' this solo

We all riding with you

No one can put out your fire...

Not even stay-at-home gloom.

Cause while you can't sing with the choir

We all riding with you

We all riding with you

We all riding with you

We all riding with you

With you!

We all riding with you

We all riding with you

We all riding with you

With you!
